

Are you passionate about shaping the direction of our field? As President-Elect, you'll chair the Program Planning Committee, collaborate with top experts and colleagues, and help steer the Society's strategic vision. It's a chance to grow as a leader and amplify your impact when you move into the President role. Both roles are well supported by CSEM staff.

CSEM is calling for nominations for President-Elect. The President-Elect plays an integral role in the growth and success of our organization. We're looking for an enthusiastic and committed CSEM member with strong leadership abilities, and collaboration and communication skills.

PRESIDENT-ELECT

Term

- 4 years, the first 2 as President-Elect, the second 2 as President. Upon expiry of the term as President, the Council may appoint the Director as Past-President.

Roles and Responsibilities of the President-Elect and President

The President-Elect is an Officer and Director of CSEM and assists the President with general oversight of CSEM's affairs. The President-Elect acts as Chair of the Program Planning Committee and is responsible for planning the CSEM scientific content for the annual Diabetes Canada/CSEM Professional Conference.

The President is the chief Council Officer and exercises general control and supervision of CSEM's affairs. The President chairs CSEM Council and presides over the Annual General Meeting. He or she works closely with CSEM's executive director and the Council Executive, providing general oversight and leadership of CSEM.

Eligibility Criteria

Nominees must be:

- Active CSEM members. Affiliate and emeritus members are not eligible.
- Enthusiastic and committed to developing and delivering excellent programming.
- Able to work with a group to achieve results.
- Connected within the endocrine and metabolism health and research network.
- Collaborative and demonstrate strong communication skills.
- Knowledgeable about endocrinology and metabolism health, care and/or research.

Selection Process

- The CSEM Nominating Committee reviews all candidates according to eligibility criteria and diversity considerations.
- The Committee proposes the preferred candidate to CSEM Council and members for approval at a special meeting in 2026.

CSEM is recruiting members who collectively reflect the diversity of the endocrine medical and research community, including constituent geographic areas, as well as all areas of endocrinology (i.e.: adult, pediatric academic, community and research), skills and experience. We strive for inclusivity and discourage discrimination based on, but not limited to, gender, language, race, cultural background, sexual orientation, age, and ability.

Nominations to open December 1, 2025.
